

THE CENTRAL RECORD

FOURTEENTH YEAR.

LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25 1903.

NUMBER 26

Of Local Interest.

Lay in your coal.

Indications point to a hard winter.

Fourteen car loads of stock left Lancaster for Cincinnati Saturday afternoon.

Sunday was the most beautiful day in many weeks, the weather being delightful.

Watch the coon who fails to hustle during the good weather. He will be around begging soon. Turn him down.

Many people go out to see the water works dam, and those who haven't been should go now while the interesting work is progressing.

Turkeys are said to be very scarce, and hogs will be as high as a cat's back. Garrard ranks at the head of the list in producing both.

Some of the highest kickers on the water works dam have drawn in their heels and are forced to say the plan is all right. Moral—Don't jaw against something you know absolutely nothing about.

Talk of Selling.
There is talk among the members of selling the Baptist church parsonage. The church owns all the property on depot street back to the alley, and it seems they could sell enough back there to help them out of debt. The parsonage is a splendid piece of property and a great help to the church. The question will come up next Sunday, when every member is asked to be present.

Scattering Times.

The other day as the big traction engine was being taken to the water works, the engineer lost control, or there were no brakes on the machine, and it started down the hill back of the Methodist church at the rate of forty miles an hour, more or less. To say there was a stampede among the residents along the street does not express the excitement. It finally crashed into a fence, throwing planks right and left. The driver stuck to the throttle and no serious damage resulted.

Very Popular Place.

The W. C. T. U. reading rooms are fast becoming the most popular place in town. Men who want to read their papers without being annoyed, go there and can sit in quiet and read to their heart's content. The rooms for ladies are also much enjoyed by the gentler sex. The ladies from the country find them especially convenient for leaving packages, their wraps and for straightening up their toilets. No talking is allowed in the reading room that will disturb the readers. This is the best arrangement we ever saw in a country town, and the noble W. C. T. U. people are being highly congratulated on its success.

Hon. James B. McCleary and W. Con. Bell will address the citizens of Garrard county, at the court house, Monday, Sept. 28th (court day) at 10 o'clock p.m. on the political issues of the day. Everybody invited to attend.

Improvements at Record Office.

So many subscribers have been rushing into our office to pay up and enable us to lay in winter coal that the steps became badly worn, and the Citizens Bank has had new ones made. It is a big improvement, and now that everything is so inviting, we trust the rush will continue and more will find their way up to pay what they owe us and thus assist in warding off Old Crimp this winter.

Orphan Brigade (C. S. A.)

The Nineteenth Reunion of the Orphan Brigade which will be held in Louisville, Ky., September 30, 1903. Opening Session, at 10:30 A. M.; Business, 11:00 A. M.; Dinner, 12:30 P. M.; Trip to Confederate Home, 2:00 P. M. All railroads have made a one and one-third rate on the certificate plan.

The sessions will be held in the old Chancery Court Room, where you will please register on your arrival. By order of the General Committee: Thos. D. Osborne, Secy.

Farris Law Stands.

Danville Advocate:—Judge Saufey upheld the Farris local option law yesterday. Every feature of this law has been attacked, and Judge Saufey's decision was a severe blow to many violators in Danville who had appealed their cases from the county to the circuit court. The first instance was a case against Bell Miller, who was fined fifty dollars and given a sentence of ten days in jail. Miller was fined fifty dollars in Judge Prewitt's court some time ago, but appealed the case with the above results.

Jewish Holiday.

Tuesday was the Jewish New Year, or the Rosh Hashanah, as it is known according to its Hebrew name. As the Hebrew calendar is reckoned according to its lunar count, the Sabbath and all holidays are observed from sunset to sunset, and accordingly the services in consecration of the Rosh Hashanah began Friday evening. This is the first in a great cycle of religious holy days and is an annual emblemification of the religious cohesion and the loyalty to sacred tradition on the part of the Jew. The services impart hearty and solemnity to the celebration. The New Year is 5654.

Must Comply With Law.

In the Boyle circuit court, Judge Saufey gave strong instructions to the grand jury in regard to the Fiscal Court not having the financial condition of the county published, as required by law, and called attention to the penalty therefor, which is a fine and removal from office. A dispatch from there says indictments are expected. The people are certainly entitled to this information and the law requires that it be published, but it never has been done, the courts dropping out of the custom. The Record respectfully calls the attention of the Garrard Fiscal court to this matter, and suggests that the settlements, receipts, etc., be printed. The Kentucky Press Association is bringing this matter to the attention of officials in all the counties, none of which have ever complied with it.

A Word to the Council.

As the question of letting the fishing privileges in the water works lake is soon to be decided, The Record desires to call attention of the importance of the matter. If a general privilege is given, it will not be but a short time until the water is filled with tin cans, the banks all torn to pieces, the fencing damaged, and greatest of all, the water filled with every breed of undesirable fish. If you will let the privilege to an organized body of men, people who know what fish to put in and how to protect them, the lake will be well stocked in a remarkably short time. But if Tom, Dick and Harry are allowed to take a hand, this can not be accomplished. Put the price of the privilege so high that only respectable people can get into the club, then the members will see that no one fishes in nesting time and that all objectionable matter is kept out of the water. Such a club will be formed, whose members will have the privilege of inviting their friends to fish, but no one else can. This club will devote its time and means to the stocking of the pond, will see that the fish are protected, the boats are clean and that the riff-raff element is kept off the premises. Lancaster will have the purest and best water in this section of the state if these details are well looked after.

Highly Prize Present.

Our friend, Al Huffman, of Stanford, has placed the editor of this paper under many obligations for a scrapbook, made by our father, 'way back in the early fifties and sixties, and containing many interesting articles published about that time. Among the number is the trip of the Lancaster band to Mammoth Cave, an article in regard to using the old brick church, so well-known to older citizens, an obituary of Dr. Edward Cook, Dr. Ben. Duncan, and many other prominent people of that day. It also contains a number of clippings from the old Louisville Journal, from the pen of the great George D. Prentiss. A money value could not be placed on the book. Mr. Huffman found it in the library of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elijah Burnside, who died in Stanford some time since.

The McAfee sale advertised for last Saturday was postponed. See ad in this issue.

The Joseph store room has received a new floor, the shelving remodeled and all up-to-date improvements put in. It is now a dandy.

It took 2,000 ballots to supply the nine precincts for holding the primary Saturday. The law requires fifty percent more than were used at last election.

Consult our advertising columns before you buy your goods. Those who advertise have something they want to sell, and that's where you will find a bargain.

Big Land Sales.

J. A. Shuttleworth, sold a farm of 200 acres in Boyle county for $19,500. He has disposed of $52,562 worth of Boyle county land within a week.

One of the waterworks engines will run all night, but both will be kept at work during the day. The pressure will be a little stronger than that of any system in this section.

There will be a called meeting of the members will be held Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, for conferring the Fellow Craft degree. Brethren requested to be on hand at appointed time, seven o'clock.

Fishermen say nearly all the fish have been destroyed in the river near town. This was done by dynamiting and seining. A man who will throw dynamite into the river would as quickly dynamite a safe, while a seiner is not but very little better.

Straight To Headquarters.

Mr. H. M. Ballou has just returned from a week's stay in Indianapolis, where he purchased the largest stock of Haviland Queensware ever shipped to Central Kentucky. He got all the latest designs and the best-selected stock we ever saw. Give him a call and see what wonderful bargains he has.

The Robinson Carnival Co., which played here in the spring lost out at Winchester and could scarcely make it to Richmond last week. We understand it disbanded at the latter place. Such attractions have played out. There is nothing in the show business that sticks like a circus, and, by the way, a good one has not been in this section this season. Perish the luck.

Remains of Joe Gaines.

The War Department some time ago notified the relatives of Joe Gaines that his body had been received and interred at San Francisco. This was found to be a mistake, and his remains were received at Washington Monday. They were shipped to Danville and buried in the cemetery there Wednesday morning. The Lancaster relatives of the dead soldier attended the burial. Gaines died in the service in the Philippines in December 1901.

Special Notice.

Parties who visit the W. C. T. U. reading rooms are respectfully requested to remember that the newspapers placed there are not to be taken away. If you want to read them, you are more than welcome to do so, but don't pick up one and jam it in your pocket to take away. Others want to see them. The Record places possibly twenty-five papers a day on the tables, and they are greatly enjoyed by the visitors to the rooms, but once in a while some fellow will carry away one of the most popular papers, thus preventing others from enjoying it. Please remember this.

Memorial Timber.

Editor Record:—While I would not, if I could, say anything that would befit the halo of glory which encircles the brow of Senator Farris, because of his brilliant and fearless service as senator from this district, I am nevertheless constrained to say a word in reference to the prospective candidacy of a native son of Garrard, who was born in Lincoln, and who is now State Commander of one of the greatest fraternities in existence. I refer to Mr. M. F. Ekin. He is popular, honest and capable; well acquainted with the wants of the people, able to hold his own on the stump or in the senate and, if he enters the race he will claim a large share of the suffrage of the good people, in the democratic party, to the principles of which he has always manifested a fidelity which is absolutely beautiful. DEMOCRAT.

Fishing Club.

Messrs. J. E. Stormes, John M. Duncan, J. M. Rothwell, George W. Palmer, Duncan Goodloe, David Ross, S. C. Denry, Doctor J. Kinnaird and the editor of the Record have formed a fishing club and leased from Mr. A. C. King all that part of Dix river owned by him, together with a new and neat five room cottage near the banks of the river. This is the best fishing water on Dix river and the Club has the exclusive fishing and boating rights, no one being permitted by the owner to trespass on said property except members of the club and their invited guests. Any person found trespassing will be prosecuted vigorously. The club will take great pains to increase the supply of fish by putting in new ones and protecting them from seiners and dynamiters. Unlike most clubs no drinking or card playing will be allowed by members of the club or invited guests. They have purchased a new and complete house-keeping outfit and will be prepared to live like lords. We earnestly wish that more such institutions could be formed along Dix river, then we would have the satisfaction of knowing that the wanton destruction of fish would cease and the greatest natural stream in Kentucky for game fish would simply overflow with them.

Advertiser will please remember that we can not change ads on Tuesday. We are not making enough to justify us in working day and night too, if you please.

Monday is county court day. Please look at label on this paper, and if it is not according to boyle, come up and settle.

Paper at Perryville.

Mr. Owen McIntyre, formerly of the Danville Advocate, is preparing to start a paper at Perryville. That is a splendid territory and he should succeed.

Favorite Exchanges.

We havent received a copy of the Jessamine Journal for two weeks and if Harry McCarty dont repeat and sin no more, there's going to be trouble. Every editor receives a big basketful of exchanges, but there are a few favorites he sticks into his pocket to take home and enjoy when all to himself. The Journal is one of the latter class with us.

Primary Saturday.

The democratic primary to select a candidate for representative, will be held Saturday, this office having printed and delivered the ballots and other necessary printed matter. There are only two candidates, Messrs. D. Cochran and J. O. Boyle and the friends of each are sanguin of success. They are both splendid men, and either will make a most capable officer.

Having Delightful Time.

In ordering his paper changed from Oklahoma to Bunkie, La., The Record's good friend, Mr. J. B. Kemper, says, "I am sojourning in the romantic town of Robeline situated on the Texas & Pacific railroad, about two hundred miles west of New Orleans. The cotton crop is fine, slightly damaged however in some localities. The sugar cane is luxuriant, weather delightful roses and many other flowers beautiful.

Ready For Business.

The new firm, The Joseph Mercantile Company, is receiving new goods and are about ready for business. By tomorrow everything will be on good shape and they will be ready for business. This is a strong firm, and The Record welcomes it to Lancaster business circles. The well-known hustler Mr. Jacob Joseph, is the head of the firm. Look out for their ads in The Record next week.

Interested Friends.

The old saying about a man never knowing how many friends he has until he gets into trouble was again well proven true last week. We refer to our friend, John Marrs, the accommodating clerk at the Hotel Glyndon, Richmond. Everybody knew of Marrs' devotion to his old friend, Sol Spratt. When the latter died, it seems that all immediately thought of John, and proceeded to break the news, gently to him. It appears no one knew or thought any one else would inform him of Spratt's death, so each proceeded to write to Marrs. It is estimated he received from seventy-five to one hundred letters and postal cards, and now thinks a job was put up on him and threatens to whip any Lancaster man who ventures within the city limits of Richmond.

Many Delegates Coming.

The state W. C. T. U. convention will meet in Lancaster Oct. 2nd to 6th, and the attendance promises to be very large. This brings together some of the most prominent ladies of the state and Lancaster should show her appreciation of the honor by putting forth every effort to entertain the delegates. There will be probably one hundred here, and the question of entertainment is no small matter. The local Union is striving hard to locate them all but we regret to say several families, who have ample room, have been so "short" to say they could not entertain anyone. This is truly a disgusting state of affairs and we were surprised to learn of any such people in Lancaster. Almost enough room has been found, and anyone willing to entertain a few delegates will please make the fact known to some member of the Union.

Fishing Club.

Messrs. J. E. Stormes, John M. Duncan, J. M. Rothwell, George W. Palmer, Duncan Goodloe, David Ross, S. C. Denry, Doctor J. The news of massacres and cruel outrages by the Turks in Macedonia grows more horrifying each week. Reports this week estimate that between 30,000 and 50,000 men, women and children have been massacred by the Turks in Monastir since the insurrection began, and that 150,000 people are hiding in the mountain, where they are dying by the thousand of starvation. The Turks seem to be determined to exterminate the entire population of Bulgaria. Reports of individual cruelties are almost too revolting to be believed. One instance will illustrate. A husband and wife were sitting in the ruins of their home when a Turkish soldier came up and slashed the man's head off and threw it in the woman's lap. Another squad of soldiers found a servant girl hiding in a ditch with several children. They outraged the girl and slaughtered the children. No history of the dark ages hardly gives more horrible cruelties. What has become of the boasted modern European civilization and Christianity?

The crop of peanut politicians seems ever on the increase. The political "arguments" of late seem to contain nothing but abuse of the other fellow. In ye olden times, a speaker told what his side was for, what he represented, in other words, he displayed his goods. But that style is a thing of the past. And all the glib talk about what the other fellow will not do. That's a poor kind of argument. We want to know what a man is for and what he will do before he gets our vote.

Since the time of Pocahontas young Britons have been capturing American girls and the custom is as old as the colonial dames. Some of the marriages prove happy ones, but very few. The foreigner is after dollars, in nine out of ten cases, and matches thus made have never been known to result other than in disaster and misery.

Fashion, says a Paris report, will put its foot down on high-heeled shoes. It is hoped something will cause the women to cease the foolish and dangerous practice of wearing them. If the Maker of all things had intended for women to walk through they were treading on a hot griddle. He would have made the foot that shape.

Many mountain families, among them the noted Hatfields and McCoys, are forming parties and locating in Washington state. Now if a few two-for-a-nickle politicians would emigrate the law-loving people of the state would rejoice and be exceedingly glad.

A New York woman who had not spoken for four years was cured by an electric treatment. Its safe to say the husband of the woman went gunning after the giver of the treatment.

A Cattlesburg sign painter has been sent to the penitentiary for bigamy. When he undertook to manage more than one woman, he might have seen the handwriting on the wall.

Used for Pneumonia. Dr C J Bishop of Agnew, Mich. says "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case." Refuse substitutes. C C & J E Stormes. 1m

With family around expecting him to die, and a son riding for life 18 miles to get Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Conghs and Colds, W H Brown, of Leesville, Ind., endured death's agonies from asthma; but this wonderful medicine gave instant relief and soon cured him. INTERIORS PICTURES.

In the county clerk's office here there hang two very valuable oil paintings about which little has been known by other than the very oldest inhabitants until today, when Prof J E Mannix, chairman of the World's Fair committee for Garrard county, put on foot an investigation that resulted in something authentic as to their presence in the Temple of Justice.

Prof Mannix in his desire to have Garrard make a creditable showing in the Kentucky State building at the World's Fair in St Louis, next year, recognized in these oil paintings something of great value to the display from this county and had them removed from the walls long enough to carefully dust them and gain the information desired. He found by referring to the order book of the Garrard County Court in June, 1833 that the portraits had been presented to Garrard county by Commodore Cicero Price a native of Garrard, but at that time, a lieutenant of the United States navy.

I M Myers was county judge of Garrard in '44 and Alexander R McKee, county clerk. The old order book shows that a meeting of the county court was held to receive this handsome gift from its honored son, that resolutions of thanks were passed and that a copy of the proceedings were furnished Lieutenant Price. The note of Lieut Price accompanying the paintings was as follows:

"To the County Court of Garrard, Gentlemen:—I beg leave to present to your honorable body, two oil portraits of Christopher Columbus and Americus Vespucci which I procured in Italy in September, last, while cruising in the Mediterranean. They are good likenesses of these celebrated navigators, having been taken from the oldest and most esteemed paintings in the Bourbon galleries at Naples. I am gratified with an opportunity of testifying my regard for the people of my native county and only regret that my offering is not more worthy of your acceptance."

This letter was dated June 10, 1844. The county court ordered the sheriff, David Reynolds, to buy gilt frames for these portraits and place them in the court house. This was done without delay, the pictures being swung on the wall by small brass chains and now is perhaps the first time that they have been removed from the place given them about three score years ago. The portraits were done in oil by Antonio Scandino. New frames will be put on the pictures and the consent of the present county administration secured for sending them to St Louis through the Kentucky Exhibit Association for the State Building for next year.

As before mentioned, Lieut. Price remained in the navy until promoted to the rank of commodore. He was the father, of Lily Price, who married Millionaire Hammerly, of New York. As his widow she became the bride of the Duke of Marlborough and remained duchess until Consolo Vanderbilt wedded the young duke, soon after which the dowager duchess became the wife of Capt Beresford, of the British army, a brother of Admiral Beresford, of John Bull's army.

The happiest set of youngsters we ever saw was the crowd returning from the picnic last Saturday, given in Mr Will Cook's woods by the members of the Lancaster and Hubble Christian Sunday Schools. A most delightful day was spent. The editor was honored with an invitation, for which he was very grateful.

We had a call from Al Huffman, of Stanford, Saturday afternoon. Al is one of the best hand compositors in the state. When a little yellow haired urchin, he stood on a soap box along side Capt. White, who learned him the trade. He is running a farm in Lincoln now, but frequently goes in and helps Ed Walton pull out. Mr.
Huffman married Miss Daisy Burnside, a former Garrard county girl, remembered by our citizens as one of the prettiest and most attractive young ladies in the county.

Would Make Good Wife.

—A Kansas girl who was about to graduate was given the theme: "Beyond the Alps Lies Italy," and this is what she had to say:

"I don't care whether Italy lies beyond the Alps or even in Missouri. I don't expect to set the rivers on fire in my future career. I am glad I have a good very good education, but I am not going to misuse it by writing poetry or essays about the future woman.
It will enable me to correct the grammar of any lover I may have should he speak of dog in my presence, or say he had went somewhere. It will also come in handy, when I want to figure out how much soap I can get for the dozen eggs at the grocery. So I do not begrudge the time spent in acquiring it. But my ambitions do not fly so high. I just want to marry a man who can lick any man of his size in township, who can run an acre farm and who has no female relatives to come around and boss the ranch. And I will agree to cook good meals for him that will not send him to an early grave and lavish upon him a whole lot of affection and see that his razor hasn't been used to cut broom wire when he wants to shave. In view of all this I do not care if I do get a little rusty on the rule of three and kindred things as the years go by."

The Great Kentucky Futurity
and the Transylvania.

There are no two trotting events
that create so much speculations, arouse so much enthusiasm, bring together so many great horses, or that owners desire so much to win, as Ketucky's Futurity and the Transylvania, the former for $14,00, and the latter for $6,000. By winning a horse at once attains a prominence that nothing else can give. These famed events are both offered by the K T H B Association, of Lexington, and will be contested during its fall meeting, Oct 6th to 17th, when $100,000 will be dispensed in forty-two races.

No event that takes place upon Kentucky soil so deserves the patronage of Kentuckians as this trotting meeting. It has made the State world-wide fame; it has widened the market for the State's greatest industry; it brings more capital within its borders in ten days than any other industry. The meeting this fall will surpass even that of 1902, and the high order of sport demands the most liberal patronage ever accorded. The annual meeting will be held at Lexington, Oct 6th to 17th inclusive. It

Where Are You From?

The original "mac from Missouri" was a level-headed citizen; ready to believe and accept after it had been proven that belief was justified—not before. There are a great many others

Missouri" literally or figuratively are invited to come. We want to show you one of the nicest lines of fall goods enthusiastic about our new dress goods

is not necessary for you to go to a bigger town for the styles, for we have best part of it, we can and will

The Cattle Trade.

The Lexington Gazette, in speaking of the sales of export cattle says: "The activity is the same which usually strikes the Blue Grass region this season of the year, and the farmers are poorly satisfied with the values which herds are bringing. Kentucky beefeves last year at this time were worth about eight cents a pound in Louisville, while this year they are bringing only five cents. Some of the best that can be secured are selling around $45, against $75 last year at the same time. For that reason breeders have little incentive to rush their sales and are holding with greater persistency than usual, in hopes that the advance of the season and the foreign demand will enable them to dispose of their holdings at better values than they can now get. The cattle raised in the blue grass region of this State are the most superior that exporters can secure, as they make beefeves of a superior quality and will stand shipment with greater hardihood than the run of cattle purchased elsewhere."

A Woman's Complexion.

It is rank foolishness to attempt to remove sallowness or greasiness of the skin by the use of cosmetics, or "local"
treatment, as advocated by the "beauty doctors." The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active.
The liver is the seat of disease and blood polution.
Green's August Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, and induces refreshing sleep.
A single bottle of August Flower has been known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. New trial size bottle

My Face

"My fortune" said the pretty maid of the ballad. It is a matter of history that beauty has been the only dower of many a woman whose name has become historic. But, on the other hand, how many a woman of large heart and noble mind has been compelled to say "My face is my misfortune." There can be few greater misfortunes that can befall a woman than to have her face marred by pimples or other eruptions. The cause of these blemishes is found in an impure condition of the blood.

To make the skin clear the blood must be made pure. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood and entirely eliminates the elements which corrupt it. It cures scrofula, pimples, eruptions, brown spots, boils, erysipelas and other disfiguring diseases which are caused by the impure condition of the blood.

"For about one year and a half my face was very badly broken out," writes Miss Carrie Adams, of 116 West Main Street, Battle Creek, Mich. "I spent a great deal of money with doctors and for different kinds of medicine, but received no benefit. At last I read one of your advertisements in a paper, and obtained a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Before I had taken one bottle of this medicine I noticed a change, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured. I can well recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to any one similarly afflicted."

"Three times I have cured myself of erysipelas," writes Mrs. Lolita Mitchell, of 1824 Adeline Street, Oakland, Alameda Co., Calif. "By using your 'Golden Medical Discovery' after I had been under the doctor's care and found no relief."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

Owes his Life to a Neighbor's Kindness.

Mr D P Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Summers counties, W Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. He was almost hopelessly afflicted with diarrhea; was attended by two physicians who gave him little, if any, relief when a neighbor learning of his serious condition, brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, which cured him in less than twenty-four hours. For sale by all druggists. 1m Barnes.

The following, taken from the Danville Advocate, of last week, will be read with interest by many Garrard county friends of the Barnes family:—Dr J C Bogle received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of Mrs George O Barnes at Sanibel Island, Florida, on the 13 inst. Mrs Barnes, is well-known throughout the country, and it is with the deepest sorrow that our readers will learn of her death. Mrs Barnes was, before her marriage, Miss Jane Cowan, and her girlhood days were spent in Danville. She is a sister of Mr. D. D. Cowan, of this city and aunt of Dr. J. C. Bogle. In 1885 she was married to Rev. George O Barnes, the evangelist, left immediately with her husband for the missionary field in India, where they remained during the celebrated Sepoy mutiny. After living there seven years, where his children, Will and Miss Marie, were born, Mr. Barnes returned with his family to America on account of his impaired health. Throughout Mr Barnes' evangelistic career, which has occasioned several trips to foreign lands and one or two trips around the world, Mrs Barnes has been his constant companion and has taken part in thousands of his services. She was a devoted Christian, a kind and loving mother, and has lived a truly exemplary life. Her friends throughout Kentucky are numbered by hundreds. As the message conveying the intelligence of her death was only a short telegram, none of the details of her burial, etc., are yet known. Her husband is at present evangelizing in the mountains of Kentucky.

THE AMERICAN LANGUAGE.

Distinctive from the King's English in Many Respects as We Use It.

"It used to be considered a witticism to ask a man whether he spoke United States," said an English university man at the Lawyers' club the other day, reporting a New York exchange, "but there is, in fact, an American language, distinctive from the king's English, not only in idioms and in the use of particular words, but in the clipping of words to save time and breath. On this side of the Atlantic one scarcely ever hears 'I have' and 'you are.' You hurrying Americans say 'I've' and 'you're.' You shorten up 'can't' into 'can't' and 'your' purest speakers use 'don't' and 'won't', and it is almost a universal habit among Americans to clip the 'g' off words ending in 'ing'. Even your professors of English fail to sound the 'e' in 'righteous' and 'courteous', and shorten 'knowledge' into 'knolwedge'. I might recite scores of words that are practically shortened by a syllable in usage, and as usage makes language, you Americans are gradually constructing a speech that is quite distinct from that form of English which Oxford and Cambridge are preserving with such care."

A Big Fight.

At Potts' Mill, near Paint Lick, on the border of the Madison-Garrard line, a fatal encounter occurred on Friday last, as the result of which Stephen Whittaker was instantly killed, and Ely Williams mortally wounded by John Masters. It appears from accounts that some difficulty arose between Masters and Williams over the actions of Williams' boys, who Masters claimed threw rocks at his barn. Hot words passed, and Masters claims he was assaulted by both Williams and Whittaker, armed with a knife and club respectively. At the conclusion of the combat, Masters was in possession of the field, on which one of the aggressors lay dead and the other fatally injured. Masters immediately gave himself up to the authorities, and was brought to jail at Richmond.

Truly Wonderful Cow.

A little four-year-old was taken on a visit to grandmamma in the country. There, for the first time, he had a near view of a cow. He would stand and look on while the man milked, and ask all manner of questions. In this way he learned that the long, crooked branches on the cow's head were called horns. Now, the little fellow knew of only one kind of horn, and a few days after obtaining this information, hearing a strange, bellowing noise in the yard, he ran out to ascertain its cause. In a few minutes he returned, with wonder and delight depicted on his countenance, exclaiming: "Mammal mammal oh, do come out here! The cow's blowing her horns!"

FISHTOWN DIALECT.

Section of Philadelphia Where the People Have an Amusing Peculiarity.

A United States senator from an eastern state, according to the Washington Post, tells an amusing story about the residents of the northeastern section of Philadelphia, known as Fishtown. Many denizens of this famous old location have a dialect strictly their own, and intensely original. For instance, many of them invariably sound the letter "V" where the letter "W" should be respected, and vice versa. Once upon a time a public man, who had been reared there, was presiding at a gathering of Fishtown citizens, when a party of wags, who were present and knew the presiding officer's peculiarity of dialect, concocted a written sentence and sent it up to the desk to be read as a note. It was as follows:

"Mr. Vinton Vaux, clad in a variegated velvet vest, of which he was very vain, after voting, took a wine laden vessel to the Wine street dock for verification."

Amid shrieks of laughter the innocent presiding officer rendered it in this wise:

"Mr. Winton Vaux, clad in a variegated vest, of which he was very vain, after voting took a wine laden vessel to the Wine street dock for verification."

"Mr. Winton Vaux, clad in a variegated vest, of which he was very vain, after voting took a wine laden vessel to the Wine street dock for verification."
